BOYS—BOYS—BOYS

The goal posts have again been destroyed at Town Park. This is a shame, as the Park Department has a limited amount of money to operate on.

We assume this is the work of boy vandals, but do you fellows realize the Park Department Board are your friends and these things are placed there for your benefit?

You should try to protect them, even against your energetic fellow playmates who destroy these pieces of property for so called fun.

MRS. ESLER GIVEN BANQUET

Last Saturday evening, Mrs. Susan T. Esler, State president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was tendered a testimonial banquet, at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge.

CHEVROLET HOLDS RECORD BANQUET

The fact that increased sales spell an increase in gainful employment has received heavy stress this past year. Chevrolet is going a step further and demonstrating that even the preparations for selling, if conducted on Chevrolet's scale, can put thousands of people to work, create vast demand for commodities, and spread economic benefits of the most tangible kind. For between Oct. 6 and Oct. 14, Chevrolet is holding a Dealer preview "convention" of 80,000 persons, climaxed with a banquet at which that number will be served.

The meetings will be nationwide in scope. They will be held in 42 principal cities. Chevrolet dealers, their retail salesmen and other members of their organization will attend. Since the average number at each meeting will be nearly 2,000, this will necessitate engagement of the largest banquet place at each point. The even will rate, in many cities, as the largest undertaking of its sort on the local records, just as the overall project probably exceeds in size anything in the annals of business.

The purpose of the convention is to present to the retail organization Chevrolet's new passenger cars for 1939, which are scheduled for public announcement Oct. 22. Central Office executives, aided by field wholesale personnel, will make the presentation, and lay before the dealers the company's plans for advertising and selling the product during the months to come.

At the request of W. E. Holler, Chevrolet general sales manager, who worked out the elaborate details of the convention program, Adolph Demmer, catering manager of the Hotel Statler in Detroit, figured out the quantities of various food items which the coast-to-coast banquets will consume. Following is only a small fraction of the total army that will be required to peel potatoes, shell peas, cook the beef, make the coffee, bake the rolls, and carry out all the other steps before those foods can be served. If you multiply the 8,000 by 10 you would not be far from the number it will actually take to get this banquet ready."

Hundreds of thousands of miles will be traveled by dealers and salesmen enroute to and from the meetings. All modes of transportation will be called into play—railways, airplanes, buses and private automobiles.

This record-breaking convention, Mr. Holler explained, was decided upon as the only means by which Chevrolet could present its new product and selling plans to its entire retail organization in the short time remaining before the public announcement. The last time a pre-view was held for the dealer organization was in December 1935, prior to announcement of the 1936 models. In a period of three weeks, 12,000 dealers were brought to Detroit, and shown the models at the General Motors Proving Ground in a series of all-day meetings. This year's plan enables Chevrolet to cover the same ground with more than six times as many men—the dealers and their entire selling organizations—and do the job in a single day.

Chevrolet believes that the effort and expense of arranging the huge convention will be more than offset by its benefits in the shape of work-producing sales. The previews are expected to generate such a high pitch of enthusiasm among dealers and salesmen as to assure volume sales from the moment they make their public bow.

Allowing one waiter to ten persons, it will take some 8,000 waiters and waitresses to serve the mammoth banquet.

"These figures," Demmer said, "hardly begin to tell the story. Every one of those items represents the means of livelihood for men and women who produce, process, transport, and prepare it. Allowing for only a small fraction of the total army that will be required to peel potatoes, shell peas, cook the beef, make the coffee, bake the rolls, and carry out all the other steps before those foods can be served. If you multiply the 8,000 by 10 you would not be far from the number it will actually take to get this banquet ready."

Mr. McKittrick was employed by the Boston & Maine R. R. for many years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alma McKittrick; two daughters, Mrs. Herbert Walker of Conn., Mrs. Allan Brisboir of Boston; one son, George McKittrick, this town, and many granddaughters.

TOWN BOWLING LEAGUE

The Town League opened its 1938-1939 season last week at the local alleys with several interesting matches on tap. The W.A.D.A. won 3 points from the No. End by the margin of twelve pins. Truman Bennett ran up a total of 312 to lead the W.A.D.A. boys to victory. Louis Doucettes' 247 was high for the North Enders.

Huntley's Lunch defeated the Silver Lake Market by a 3 to 1 count, with George Lynch and Jerry Polcaro scintillating for the victorious team, while Louie Kleymen was the bright light for the Lake men.

Benny's Radiomen turned on just enough juice to take four points from Laird's Sign Hangers. Benny Harrison was the loudspeaker for his team with a 294 total. Bill Farrell's 266 was the hikest score turned in by the losers.

George Webber's Forum team got off on the right foot by chalking up a three to one victory over a rejuvenated Buck Bros. team. George Webber's 283 was high for his team, but the real shartshooter of the match was Barney McMahon who picked off 298 pins.

The Wilmington Coal Co. was scheduled to bowl the S. P. M. Class, but the latter team failed to make an appearance due to some misunderstanding regarding the night on which they were to bowl. However, the Coal Co. bowled and put up a total of 1417 to lead in team scoring for the week. Vut Galka was high with 307 and Johnny Doherty second with 305.

WILMINGTON THEATRE

By far the most entertaining Judge Hardy Family picture to date, is the new film, "Love Finds Andy Hardy," a riotous comedy with music, featuring Mickey Rooney at his best, with Judy Garland, Lewis Stone and Cecilia Parker, in supporting roles, at the Wilmington Theatre Fri. and Sat., this week. Also "Gun Law," with George OBrien.

The most thrilling spectacle-drama of the year, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," filmed entirely in technicolor and starring Errol Flynn, comes to the Wilmington and Tues. Also "Mr. Moto Takes Theatre for three days, Sun., Mon., & Chance."

COMMUNICATION

A plea for return to true representation in the sixth councilor district was made today by Edward A. Rose, Democratic nominee for Governor's Council, and Middlesex County Commissioner nominee in 1936.

Former Somerville Alderman Rose, waging an active campaign similar to the one he conducted two years ago for County Commissioner, stated that his battle is to bring recognition to a district dwarfed by a few big outside political minded cities. Rose said:

"This district has not received a fair share of the state work or the flood control improvements, for the amount of taxes it contributes throughout the 32 cities and towns to the treasury of the Commonwealth.

"The people are sick and tired of the 'Front Parlor Councilor' who waits for the people of his district to come to him, instead of visiting the small and large cities alike to get first hand knowledge of the needs and wants of the district.

"Rose will not be a September and November councilor who is seen on the platform a few weeks before primaries and elections.

"Rose will go to you and tell you what your state is going to do. I will tell you how your money is going to be spent and will give you for your tax dime and your tax dollar improvements which you can see.

"Why even in my city, Somerville, the 'Front Parlor Councilor' is never seen. There will be no forgotten cities or towns when I am your next Governor's Councilor."

Signed
Ken Gibson

WELFARE NEWS

The tree clearance is going along in a fine manner. All departments have certainly deserved a lot of credit.

Mr. Babine, the tree warden, has been obliged to let go all aliens on his payroll. As he is working for the town of Reading, he is not allowed to hire aliens.

Every man who attended the Old Age Assistance outing, was given a picture of the group. The picture is a fine one of this group, and will be cherished by them.

SCOUT NEWS

One of the best meetings of this season was held last Friday, Oct. 7th. We had forty-four boys, four officers, two committeemen, the commissioners and two men who are very much interested in scouting.

We also had two very good speakers, the first one being Mr. David Martin, who spoke to the boys about the opportunities of scoutings today and when he was a scout back in 1912. The next speaker was our newest committeeman, Rev. Mr. Seaboyer. He spoke to the boys about obedience and reverence. It was a very interesting talk. Mr. Ray Boutwell, who has helped the boys in many ways and has given much of his time to scoutings also attended this meeting.

We had a very interesting class in knot-tieing, and the boys all learned to whip the end of a rope. This meeting was visitor's or new boys' night, and several new boys came in.

Next week, Friday, Oct. 14 is Court of Honor. All friends and parents are invited.

To all the friends of our Chief Scout Executive of the Lowell council, we wish to announce that he is leaving us to go to Conn. We will sincerely feel the loss of the "Chief," (the name all the boys call him by.) Many boys will remember his talks and the advice he has given our troop.

The following is an extract from a letter sent out by the Chief Scout Executive: "Founded on the highest ideals, headed by able, picked leaders, the Boy Scout movement is a powerful force for good in every community. Scouting knows no creed or race. It serves rich and poor, alike. It is real fun and every boy has a real chance.

For today, Scouting gives boys useful things to do during leisure hours, directs their bubbling energies into constructive channels, enriches their lives in both work and play.

For the future, Scouting moulds character, points the way to better citizenship, builds REAL MEN.

LOCAL

Mrs. John Schwamb of Belmont Ave., Wilmington, has returned home from a visit with her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cameron of Nashua, N. H.

While on her visit she had the pleasure of meeting the Rev. Halah H. Loud, who is stopping at her son's home. Mr. Loud is very well known in Wilmington, having been pastor of the First Congregational church of Wilmington and wishes to be remembered to his parishioners and old friends. Also with him was Mr. Rogers, another old resident of Wilmington, and who's son has a park named for him in the town, "Rogers Park."

They all enjoyed their visit together and it seemed good to have met former residents of the home town.

THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our many friends and neighbors who, by their kind expressions of sympathy, have helped to lighten the burden in the loss of our dear one.

Mrs. Edna Robinson.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Robinson and family.

Mrs. George McKittrich and family wish to thank the American Legion for the beautiful wreath sent them during their recent bereavement.

sic of Boston's Harvest Melody Dance Band.

The success of this party was due to the efforts of a hard-working committee, led by the zealous and untiring George Beal as chairman. Assisting the chairman was James Gilligan, Russ Crocker, Charlie Jordan, Don Cornetti, George Beal, Jr., Elmer Graicyk, Carl Bachman and Harry Stewart.

The committee wishes to thank all public officials, professional people and merchants of our town for their splendid support of our party. And we assure you that the profits from this party will be well spent for the greater betterment of our town. We are also grateful to those who attended, or purchased tickets in support of our cause. Twenty percent has been donated to the Ambulance fund — a fund so absolutely necessary in our town, and so well taken care of by the authorities in charge. The remainder of the proceeds go to build up an all 'round athletic program in Wilmington.

We know that people are willing to help in causes that work for the betterment of individuals. This is one such association and should be supported in all its activities.

We are very happy to say that the Consolidated Chemical Company of Woburn have graciously donated the use of their five basket ball uniforms for our use this basket ball season. For which we say — wonderful cooperation. It won't be long now before candidates will be called out for the team. Those of you who believe you have talent, get your names in to James Gilligan, Russ Crocker, Bob Baker, Larry Cushing or Bill Houlihan of the sports committee.

Don't forget the Associate's regular meeting, Saturday night at 8 P. M. at the Clubhouse.
